CSEA Election Recommendations

CSEA members understand that public education is inherently political. From the state legislature's allocation of monies to the decisions of our Board of Education on day to day policy, the decisions of the elected officials affect us. We again convened a representative group of members who interviewed local candidates and made recommendations. To find out who we recommended and how our process works, login to the member section of the CSEA website where we posted this information. If you have any issues logging in, please contact us. If you would like to see a personalized list of recommendations for all statewide offices and ballot measures, CEA has a handy tool at www.cea.yourvoter.guide.

Dealing With Aggressive Students

We have been hearing a lot about injuries from aggressive and violent students the past couple weeks. Members want to know what options they have for dealing with such students and what to do when a student injures someone. To help sort this out, we have posted on the members' section of the website a consolidation of the pertinent information and directions straight from the Master Agreement, School-Board policy, and Superintendent's directives. Let's be clear, though: At no time is it OK for a student to assault a teacher—or anyone else, for that matter. If you have additional questions or feel that the policy is not being followed, please contact us.

ESPA Member Opportunity

Would you like an opportunity to get meaningful information designed by ESPs for ESPs? CEA will be sponsoring a professional development workshop at CEA headquarters in Denver for ESP members on Saturday, October 6th from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. If you are interested in learning more, please contact Denise.

This is an opportunity for ESPs to come together and start to build power statewide. Join us. Hear us roar!

New Licensing Requirement

The Colorado State Board of Education passed a new licensing requirement in June:

Effective September 1, 2018 and every year thereafter, educators endorsed in elementary, math, science, social studies, or English seeking a renewal of their professional license must complete or demonstrate completion of professional development activities equivalent to 45 clock/contact hours or three semester hours in Culturally and Linguistically Diverse (CLD) Education within a full five year renewal period that meets or exceeds the English Learner Professional Development standards.

As you have questions about the new requirement and free class program, contact Casey Kilpatrick, the Director of Learning Services, at ckilpatrick@coloradoea.org

Joint Council

Joint Council serves as a problem-solving body representing CSEA and Administration. It is an extension of Bargaining that meets monthly when Bargaining is not in session. It clarifies questions of practice, oversees task forces dealing with District issues, recommends the District Calendar to the Board, and recommends solutions to the Superintendent and to the IBB bargaining team where appropriate. An example of its work: Deciding that teachers' 14- and 25-year salary bonuses applied to total years of service, not consecutive years. See the Contract Fact below for additional information.
