We Need a Few Hours of Your Time...

Over the past several months, CSEA members of all affiliations vetted local initiatives and candidates for the state legislature in our recommendation process. In this process, the team is unified in supporting the Healthy School Meals for All (Prop. FF) issue so that no student in Colorado goes hungry because they cannot afford it. The group also recommends several candidates – Tony Exum, Stephanie Vigil, Marc Snyder, and Regina English – because of their positions on public education. We are asking every member to spend a few hours with us this Saturday, October 15, 9am at North Middle School Cafeteria to help win these campaigns. It's going to be a beautiful fall day to walk and knock on targeted, friendly doors. Plus, there will be donuts!! Send us an email if you plan to join us.

BOE ALERT

As we note too often, a few Board of Ed members engage in coordinated, open attacks on CSEA, its president, and its membership. Such unfounded and irresponsible diatribes continued at last night's meeting. Specifically, these mouthpieces are trying to restrict and eliminate member participation in district decision-making, thus attempting to mute our voice in professional matters. They also attacked teacher representation and participation in governance of our health plan, again with an eye to denying voice and authority in matters involving employee health care. These Board members are trying to undermine the health plan and know that only CSEA stands in the way. The hypocrisy of false allegations by Al Loma, who was ejected from his own charter for insider dealing to provide improper benefits to his church, comes as no surprise, but others are now showing their true colors. Presumably their handlers and funders have cracked the whip and given them urgent marching orders. Undermining workers' rights and representation is and has been their plan, in concert with the national political forces we've seen in mailings. We've been monitoring them and alerting members to this gnawing corruption, and our Solidarity continues to stand in their way. It is now clear that attending and monitoring Board meetings and work sessions is something we all can do.
