Boo at the Zoo

Thank you to the wonderful CSEA volunteers that spent time at the CSEA booth on Sunday, October 22 handing out candy and connecting with the community! Thumbs up to you!

Days of Our Lives...in D-11

Posturing and Disinformation on Display

Is it a sign of desperation or something else when Jason Jorgenson tries to appropriate your bargaining issue at the DAC Board-candidates forum as if it were his idea? Stealing others' ideas and portraying them as their own is a known, sordid strategy from the playbook the anti-rights outfit passes around the region, state, and nation. Jason's doing it in order to trick voters into believing that he's working on your concerns instead of trying to eliminate your voice entirely. CSEA brought "Intentional Professional Development" to the bargaining table last year in order to assure purposeful, differentiated, and targeted PD for teachers. Now here's Jorgenson talking purposeful and differentiated PD as if he thought of it! We continue to press for choice and differentiation in the Professional Development Task Force, while Jason appears at events with the Woodland Park superintendent.

Foul Creatures Slither through Members' Neighborhoods

Members have let us know that the so-called Freedom Foundation is creeping through neighborhoods again, harassing members at their homes. As always, feel free to ask their hirelings why they are bothering you and who paid them to do it. The billionaires can't stand it that people would unify to assure their ability to be heard and act in their own best interests. Don't hesitate to let us in the office know if ghouls of this vulgar type try to haunt your neighborhood! Have a Happy Halloween (and turn these tricksters away from your door)!
